Florida Vegetables Now Dominate Northern Markets

Beans In Demand Locally Bringing Around $6.00 The Hamper

Under weather, good crop of beans and very satisfactory yield of same, has brought the satisfaction back on the part of all persons connected with the vegetable trade. Prices jumped so that shipments going out, by direct shipment or air, have hovered around the $6.00 a hamper mark, most of the week.

The labor situation is yet a puzzle, but the Farm Labor Employment Bureau is of the opinion that there will be a sufficient amount of labor to handle the retrenched acreage harvesting work.

Field laborers are being paid 50 cents for a total of one round hamper, but this pay is likely to be raised as the main crop comes in, and if prices remain good.

Most of the local packing houses operated on a fluctuating schedule the past week, on beans of a good quality. Next week will be a more uniform operation.

Tomato harvesting began in the Ft. Pierce section, the fore part of the week, and report is that indications are for a rather prolonged shipping season.

Opening prices were reported as very satisfactory. Around 1700 very satisfactory. Around 1700

Harvest Season On For 950,000 Tons Of Sugar Cane

Freight trains over the Florida East Coast system began rolling from Canal Point, the first grinding plant at Clewiston, where activities will continue until the last stock of cane is ground some time in April.

The harvest season is about a month late this season, owing to storm and flood water conditions. Estimate is made that the cane crop will be around 15 percent, and that the yield of the 28,000 acres will be 950,000 tons of cane.

As has been the custom for many years the Corporation will again throw open its plant for visitation purposes, starting on November 17th. Last year talks by Dr. G. M. Brown, passed through the big plant.

Mr. Danvers will give as much as half of his time to the chemical and mechanical control of the drainage canals. The water lavatory phase of the work will be in cooperation with the U. S. Engineer, and with the officials of the Everglades Drainage District and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The formal development of the field of Agricultural Engineering, is being given as important to the State of Florida as that in plant breeding for the development of new and improved strains of crops and types. All the former has been able to do, until quite recently, has been to take down the cane, and to plant it, and by whatever happened to be available that seemed most likely to suit his purpose.

New Appointees For Special Work At Local Station

Ditching, Hyacinth And Engineering Projects On The Program

Mr. John W. Randolph, mill recently, Agricultural Engineer in the district office of the U. S. Sugar Corporation, at Clewiston, has accepted the position of Agricultural Engineer at the 14th plant, near Station, effective November 1, and, with it, the responsibility for the drainage and ditching projects in the Sugar Company and the sincere desire of its top ranking officials to cooperate with him in any way possible in the future.

Among the problems first to be attacked at the Experiment Station in this field are these: the drainage and ditching of more efficient spraying and dusting equipment as well as the use of fertilizers and the use of the drainage canals.

Drainage Work Progressing In N.W. Portion City

Many Ditches Cleaned Out, New Ones Dug To Handle Flood Waters

The need of more and more drainage facilities for the north-west portion of the city, taking in packing house, school and sub-division property, has long been a discussion topic, with many possible plans for alleviation, but no definite action taken.

Mayor N. D. Lloyd announces that as a result of an agreement between the South Florida Conservancy district, county and city officials, a plan to provide for flood water relief was worked out, and to be paid for by these taxing units, and not at excessive costs to any one.

The plan is set up to care for the free flow of water in the main ditches and the new outlets provided, and there will be no dead ends.

The South Florida District canal from the Chosen pump house to the Palmetto road, along Osceola drive, is being cleaned out by a drag line.

Ditches in the Packing house and sub-division property are being cleaned and enlarged, to relieve the bad water congestion situation at these points.

The ditch on the Athletic park road has been cleaned out, and another new ditch comes southward from the park paralleling Second avenue.

A new 45 foot ditch is constructed the entire length of Second street to the Athletic field road, and later developments will be installed or constructed for the west side of the road to care for waters from the west.

The property easement lines at the rear of the homes in the Walker-Evans and the Northmore subdivisions, situated on the Athletic park road, are being constructed, between each street, with necessary under street culverts.

Mayor Lloyd states that he is satisfied that the plan as being worked out, will be a most satisfactory one, of great benefit to the city, and to the taxpayers, and in the future will alleviate bad flood water conditions in the areas formerly flooded.

He also states that plans are made for drainage work in the southwest portion of the city, and already having been given extensive service.

Roadways in the packing house center, badly damaged during the storm, will be repaired and put in good condition, and equipment and property owners have aided materially in the project under way for the N.W. portion of the city.

The N.W. portion of the city desires to express full appreciation.

Soviet Russia's "Iron Curtain," according to some reports, is mainly a defensive device. Apparently there is a genuine fear that if the miserable millions of Europe and Asia could glimpse the luxuries enjoyed by the masses in the capitalist United States, the cause of communism would have tumbled. Slendering the Iron Curtain with the story of what politically free men can do for themselves, is a problem that is occupying much thought these days—and the expenditure of a lot of the taxpayers' money.

Against the background of near frustration, one positively encouraging note appears. A group of American oil companies has introduced an inspiring example of American life throughout large areas of the Middle East, by development of Arabian oil. The importance of this move to develop the resources of Arabia, cannot be overestimated. As Fortune Magazine says: "If those resources are developed with foresight and with vision and with a new regard for the 50 million people of the area, then a... hopeful prospect emerges. These are immense stakes; and by one of the great ironies of history the issue will be decided not primarily by the United States government, not by the British foreign office, not by the planners, but by the forces of corporate initiative and corporate resources.

"As ambassadors, the American oilmen have no easy role, but if played successfully, it will be a momentous one. Their business in the Middle East pits free enterprise against the wiles and propaganda of the communists; American democracy against totalitarian authority. The results of the test will determine the decision of the 50,000,000 Middle Easterners—whether it leaves them still in poverty, chaos and serfdom, or whether it brings them orderly progress and a decent way of life in which the seeds of democracy can sprout."

This is a large order. But there are strong indications that American enterprise will measure up to the responsibility circumstances have thrown upon it.

During the past two years Southern Bell has broken all records improving and expanding facilities to meet this increased volume of calls. In some communities the job is more difficult than in others. Often, additional switchboards must be manufactured and installed. Sometimes, a new building must be constructed.

Our entire telephone team is in there pitching. We are doing everything humanly possible to speed up and improve your telephone service. Speed, efficiency and courtesy have always been a tradition with telephone folks. And that's the way we mean to keep it.

in some national or private cemetery, and in homes and unknown located graves, in our own land and in foreign soils. Due honor goes to each and every one of them, for they gave their all that Democracy might live.

There is one grave in Arlington cemetery near Washington, which is known the world over as the lair of the "Unknown Soldier" who is the selected representative of all other who went the same way as he, and to whom all honor was extended by the Federal government and thousands of military groups. Taps have sounded for them but their spirits go marching on, and the memories kept green in the hearts of an appreciative people. Peace has come to them forever.

for Christmas, taxes and the annual automobile license tag. The list will be a must, if you want to operate the gas vehicle on the public highway.

There is activity in the Glades, and growing in volume each day. Looks mighty good to see those truck loads of negro help going to the fields; and seeing the truck come back loaded with beans. This means operation and activity at the packing houses, liveliness in the freight yards. It means more wage money being buying in the mercantile marts, and an all round improved business condition.

Well, with all the ditch cleaning and new water outlets constructed, there ought to be less dirt water in the region north-west of the Hillsboro canal. The improvement did not come any too soon as it was an urgent emergency proposition.

In making my rounds, I ran across U. E. Meeks, fifth street merchant, and found him lap by three juveniles. He informed me that he had been twice married and that he was the father of 19 children, 11 of whom were living. He also has 16 grand-children. Nine of his children are attending the local public schools.

The houses that moved up Main street, under tractor power, were from the VanLandingham farm. Progress sure has been made advancement in the house moving business, over the old wheel method.

The map recently issued by the State Board of Health showing the location of polluted waters in the state, shows the Everglades section to be free of such contamination.

Through the powerful service of the National Committee on Boys and Girls club work, expansion of 4-H clubs are on the gain, with many new clubs being enrolled. These clubs are especially for rural and small city territories, in which farming and domestic science promotions are desirable.

The climax for the year 1947 will come in December when the National 4-H congress is held. Sponsors offer $317,000 in medals, awards, educational trips, scholarships, and attendance at the Congress convention.

A report from the Chicago headquarters shows that there are 24,711 clubs with a total of 2,238 boys and girls, a total of 1,615,024. The vast total of projects carried on by clubs and individuals represents the stupendous sum of 25 million dollars.

Palm Beach county is pretty well organized so far as the farm clubs are concerned, by the Farm agents and Domestic Science directors, still have number of locations where new clubs will be formed.

If there was one busy man during the hurricane season, it was Bill Jeffries, of the South Florida Co-Operative District force. He was working night and day, watching over his sick situation, and his watchfulness was the means of preventing the loss of property and life. Bill lost fully ten pounds off his skinny anatomy during this strenuous ordeal.

If the waters do not soon go off the local golf course, the local golfers will have lost their skill, and will have to again gain their former accomplishment, when play is possible.

Sim Corbin, out at the lake dock, says high watch does not seem to deter the activity of sports fishermen a bit, as they have been busier than ever, since the lake has been so high. He says if business keeps up at the present pace, he will be justified in enlarging his camp and its fishing and hunting equipment.

Would it not be fine, if the City of Belle Glade, could have all its main streets improved in the fashion that Main street has been finished off. Avenue A in particular should receive such a covering treatment.

President will issue a proclamation calling for nation wide Thanksgiving service and celebrations. We here in the crop area have experienced weather that knocked most of the Thanksgiving spirit out of us, yet, there still remain that thought and fact that we can offer appreciation that affairs were no worse. We have worked out of disaster jams before, and with courage we will do it again, so let's give our full spirit to this Thanksgiving.

In the history of the Belle Glade Lion's club, it has been to four of its members, the Lion's "Certificate of Public Service", an appreciation to the laborers performed in the public and club work. The writer of this column, much to his surprise, has been presented one of these prized certificates, which will proudly find placement above his editorial desk. This token would never have been possible, had it not been for the generous support of the Herald's chief editor, so we assign portion of this honor to the Herald. During the existence of the Herald, several of its staff and the paper have been recognized by editorial and other societies, for its part in public promotion work. The Herald is proud of its news-coverage work, especially in the local field.

FLORIDA VEGETABLES

Arises are reported in bearing. Prices ranged from $6.00 to $10.00 a crate.

Grades and some, this week, began the shipping of radishes to the markets, and other of their specialty crops will be on the way shortly. Crops are looking good on this concern's farm.

Weather changes in the east coast and northern farming section, from which most of the late produce has been coming to the markets, bring those sources of supply practically to an end. Late Florida and Texas are prominently in the picture from this time on. The fact that Florida vegetables are entering the market at an opportune time, means that it will be a main source of supply for table greens, and that prices will be shooting upward.

The Florida Citrus Commission, without a manager, has named M. H. Walker, to the position. He has formerly been secretary-manager of the Florida Citrus Producers Association. He succeeds Robert C. Evans who resigned to take up other business connections.

Celery growers in the Sanford Oviedo and Zellwood sections are very optimistic over the present season crops and shipments. Some early celery has already gone out of Zellwood, while the other points will be in full shipment around December 15th. Here in the Glades it is reported that there will be only scattered shipments during November and December, pretty heavy in January, and practically none in February. The lateness of the Glades season is due to flood conditions and that planting had to be made from second seed beds planted after the hurricanes.

After civilian groups had failed to raise the necessary $150,000 for the new Ridge hospital near Avon Park, the Florida citrus industry men of that section, took over the task of raising the balance of the funds, and the hospital will be known as Charles H. Walker Memorial, honoring the memory of one of their early citrus growers, recently deceased. Walker was president of the Florida Citrus Exchange at the time of his death. W. C. VanCleave of Tampa was elected to succeed him.

Duda Tire and Rim Sales Company, at Oviedo, is enlarging its plant to handle its specialized tire and rim business for farm machinery, which it started as an experiment and necessity during the war. The

The power take-off gives you up to 30 hp on the belt—ample for your power jobs. Let us bring a "Jeep" out to your place and show you how many jobs it will do.

CHURCH OFFICERS

W. B. Simons.
Deacons, A. E. Kirchman, Fred Annan, C. D. McClure, Dr. Ryan Wood, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian church in behalf of the Men's Bible Class and the session of that church, sprung a complete surprise, when he presented the new congregation with a handsome leather bound pulpit Bible.

The local church in turn returned a surprise when Tom Watson, Jr. read and presented to the Home church bodies, a set of Resolutions, touching on the thanks and appreciation for the services which had been extended a like document to its own church, in many ways. Dr. Wood stated that this was no innovation, for he knew of no other church which had extended a like document to its mother church. These resolutions will be engrossed in the minutes and history of Memorial church, and a facsimile photostat will be forwarded to Montreal headquarters for filing in church archives.

One of the speakers gave the administration divisions of the Presbyterian church. The local church officer is known as the Session, the next the Presbytery; then the Synod, usually composed of two or more state Presbyteries; and the National Assembly is the high court of the church.

A Presbyterian minister, is not a member of the church he may serve, but is a member of the Presbytery, and that body is responsible for his work in the pulpit. In calling a pastor the Session may make recommendation, but it is the Presbytery which confirms the calls and conducts the installation services. The Memorial church Session, granted a mass dismissal letters from that church, to form the local church.

The congregation has had many enjoyable social hours during its Mission period, but the one staged for the institution night occasion, was most elaborate, with the serving of plates of the most delicious viands, to the 100 or more people in attendance.

Rev. Daniel Iverson, of Shanadoh, Prebtery, who was to have delivered the instituting sermon, for some unknown cause was unable to keep the appointment as he did not arrive here. The Rev. Lawrence Love, pastor of the First church in Ft. Lauderdale, very energetically and impressively performed that duty, with an earnest and timely message, and also sang a beautiful baritone solo.
